

EMPLOYMENT READINESS PROGRAM

The M&FRC supports military, civilians, and family members in achieving short and long-term employment, by referring for education/training, and obtaining career goals in the private and public sectors. The M&FRC provides comprehensive services to ensure the individual is equipped with adequate knowledge and assistance to aid in their job search. Services include:

- Classes and individual consultation on career planning and personal development, resume writing, interviewing skills and all other phases of the job search process.
- Individual career counseling & Leadership Coaching is available by appointment with a Certified Federal Career Coach
- Resource center offers guided access to computers, printers, internet information on careers, jobs, and the development of job search skills.
- To help military spouses reach their education and career goals the SpouseWorks (formerly SECO) program provides education and career guidance to military spouses worldwide and offers comprehensive resources and tools for all stages of their career progression. For more information about SpouseWorks, click HERE