

Relocation Assistance

Relocation Assistance:

The Air Force Relocation Assistance Program helps members and families manage permanent change of station (PCS) moves through the Military & Family Readiness Center \(M&FRC\), offering pre-departure resources, Military OneSource planning tools, and local settling-in services

Newcomers' Orientation (Right Start):

The Newcomers' Orientation (Right Start) includes presentations from base agencies that are important for newcomers. Right Start is mandatory for all active-duty personnel, regardless of unit of assignment. Spouses of active duty personnel and DoD civilian employees are highly encouraged to attend. Participants should not schedule any other appointments during this orientation.

Your unit Commander's Support Staff will sign you up for Right Start during in-processing.

Sponsorship Training:

The M&FRC Relocation Program is here to support Sponsors and Command Support Staffs who are charged with managing and monitoring the unit level Sponsorship Program. Localized Sponsorship Training is offered at the M&FRC twice a month. This local training is a compliment to the e-Sponsorship Application &

Training \(eSAT\). This Department of Defense training is mandated for all new Sponsors and Sponsors who have not taken training within the year prior to a new Sponsorship assignment. This website provides sponsors with information MilitaryInstallations (<https://installations.militaryonesource.mil/military-installation/f-e-warren-afb>), PCS tools and Plan My Move.

Individual PCS Planning, Smooth Move:

Pre-departure relocation services (Smooth Move) allow members to make informed decisions and preparations. Most relocation programs offer one-on-one consultation and referral services for anyone needing assistance. Also, the base offers a Smooth Move briefing that includes TMO, MPF, Finance, Med Group and the Military and Family Readiness Center.
